Pray for One Another

“Father, God bless all my Christian friends in whatever it is that You know they need this day! Fill their hearts and minds with Your peace as they seek to have a closer relationship with You. In Jesus name. Amen.”

Christians should pray for one another. Let’s not forget that each one of us is fighting against the forces of evil and striving to walk the narrow path which leads to eternal life. Each one of us needs the prayers of other believers to succeed. Here are some ideas for which we might prayer:

- “I thank You, Father God, for this sister who is an example of faith, love, and hope” (cf. 1 Th. 1:2-3).
- “God of all wisdom, please grant your people living in Farmington a deeper understanding of Your power toward them” (cf. Eph. 1:19).
- “Father in heaven fill my fellow servants in Christ with the knowledge of His will in all spiritual wisdom and understanding” (cf. Col. 1:9-12).
- “Holy Father, guide each believer to Your righteousness and a way of escape from temptation” (cf. Lk. 22:32).
- “Father, forgive Your saints in keeping with Your immeasurable mercy and love” (cf. 1 Jn. 5:16).

We often pray for material things such as food, health, and financial prosperity, but let’s not forget the spiritual needs. Prayer can accomplish much (Jas. 5:16).
