July 3, 2022

For I have taken all this to my heart, even to examine it all, that righteous people, wise people, and their deeds are in the hand of God. People do not know whether it will be love or hatred; anything awaits them. It is the same for all. There is one fate for the righteous and for the wicked; for the good, for the clean and the unclean; for the person who offers a sacrifice and for the one who does not sacrifice. As the good person is, so is the sinner; the one who swears an oath is just as the one who is afraid to swear an oath. (Ecclesiastes 9: 1-2 NASB).

Good Attitudes

Good attitudes are contagious. If you smile, I smile back. If you cheerfully greet me, I return the cheerful gesture. If you sing loud and joyfully, I am encouraged belt out with enthusiasm. Positive attitudes uplift our spirits and move us to good responses.

Good attitudes are personal choices. We choose to rejoice. Optimistic attitudes are generated by our decision to find the blessing in every situation. There are two things in which I am truly in control—my attitude and my effort.

What sort of attitude did you choose to have this morning? Will it inspire and perk up your Christian family? Will their day be brightened having seen you today? Isn't it wonderful to be surrounded by people who have chosen to stimulate and encourage?

“Each of us is to please his neighbor for his good, to his edification” (Romans 15:2).
