August 2, 2020

Now as to the love of the brethren, you have no need for anyone to write to you, for you yourselves are taught by God to love one another; for indeed you do practice it toward all the brethren who are in all Macedonia. But we urge you, brethren, to excel still more, and to make it your ambition to lead a quiet life and attend to your own business and work with your hands, just as we commanded you, so that you will behave properly toward outsiders and not be in any need (1Thess. 4:9-12, NASB).

Our supply of individually packaged communion is nearly gone. Replacements are on back order. Until our supply is replenished, we will be handing out the emblems. The servers will be wearing gloves and carrying a tray to each person. The bread will be in individual cups as will the fruit of the vine. Please leave used cups in rack on back of the pew in front of you. Thank you for your patience and cooperation.

Servant

Peter introduces himself as a bond-servant and apostle of Jesus Christ (2Peter 1:1). Bond-servant is a translation of the Greek word doulos, which describes a person who voluntarily or involuntarily gives oneself up wholly to another's will. Biblically, a bond-servant is a slave to another's will.

Peter's word order is important. He is first of all a willing slave of Jesus Christ and then His apostle. Peter could not be an apostle without first being a willing slave.

When we introduce ourselves, we may include some title or designation first. We may want people to view us with respect and honor, so we use titles such as Mr, Ms, or Dr.

It occurs to me that unless we see ourselves as slaves of Jesus Christ first, we may not have the proper view of ourselves. And without the proper view of self, we are not going to be the spouse, parent, employee, citizen, and Christian who Christ is calling us to be.

The way we introduce ourselves says a lot about our view point. A change in personal perspective could make a huge difference in the unity and attractiveness of our Lord's church. Let's follow Peter's example and think of ourselves as slaves of Christ above all else.

Children's Bucket

Thank you for your recent contribution of $289.61. Your support of the work here is an investment in the lives of our children. We could not continue to care for them without your help.
