Excused Absence

They all had reasons for declining the king's wedding invitation. Each one consider his or her reason to be an "excused absence." The apathetic, the too busy, and the murders of the king's slaves all received the same destruction from the king (Mt. 22:2-7).

We may have our reasons for being regularly absent from church gatherings and activities, but do we understand that in doing so, we are rejecting God's invitation, not man's?

Each of us will stand before the judgment seat of Christ and give our reasons for neglecting to study the Bible, not worshiping with the saints, and not being zealous for good deeds. We will have to explain why we spent thousands of dollars on secular education, learning to play musical instruments, participating in sports, and family vacations, but we couldn't find time for Bible study, worship, and serving one another.

You are invited by God to have a relationship with Him now so that you can spend eternity in His presence. If you choose to be absent from Him now, you will be absent from Him in eternity.
