What is the outcome then? I will pray with the spirit, but I will pray with the mind also; I will sing with the spirit, but I will sing with the mind also (1 Cor 14:15 NSAB). Let the peace of Christ, to which you were indeed called in one body, rule in your hearts; and be thankful. Let the word of Christ richly dwell within you, with all wisdom teaching and admonishing one another with psalms, hymns, and spiritual songs, singing with thankfulness in your hearts to God. Whatever you do in word or deed, do everything in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks through Him to God the Father (Col 3:15-17 NASB).

A Tough Christian Principle

Here are some powerful words from the apostle Peter:

“To sum up, let all be harmonious, sympathetic, brotherly, kindhearted, and humble in spirit; not returning evil for evil, or insult for insult, but giving a blessing instead; for you were called for the very purpose that you might inherit a blessing” (1Pet. 3:8-9).

One of the difficult principles of Christianity to follow is the principle of no retaliation. From our youth we have been “getting back” or “getting even” with those who did us wrong, but now we are expected to change all that... “not returning evil for evil, or insult for insult.” Truly, compliance with such a concept presents a tremendous challenge.

But, there's even more demanded of us. Peter goes even further to add, “but giving a blessing instead.” Yipes!!! Not only are we required to withhold our revenge, but we're expected to render good to those that dish out evil to us. Does Peter know what he's saying? Is he in tune with real life? The answer is yes... he fully understands... the Christian life.

Christ showed us the way... first, in His teaching: “...love your enemies, and pray for those who persecute you” (Mt. 5:44); and second, in His example: “...while being reviled, He did not revile in return; while suffering, He uttered no threats, but kept entrusting Himself to Him who judges righteously” (1Pet. 2:23).

Letting go of the retaliating spirit may be difficult, but when you do, you will find that it brings great benefit to your life. Not only will you find happiness now, but ultimately you will receive eternal joy. So, go ahead... find someone to bless.
